

SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 12, 1908.

It seems to be a hard task to find—or to elect—Episcopal bishops these days. After four trials Washington finally got a head for its diocese, but Maryland is not so lucky after two attempts. Bishop Paret, of Baltimore, asked for a cadjetor several months ago, and the Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, of New York, was chosen. Dr. Lloyd declined the place, and an effort was made to elevate some other priest to the episcopate. After a session lasting several days the diocesan convention has adjourned without agreeing on a candidate, and the venerable Bishop Paret, not at all pleased over the failure to designate his successor, has let it be known that he will call no more special conventions, but will let the question go over to the regular diocesan assemblage next May. In the meantime the bishop hopes the sentiment of the diocese will center upon some clergyman who will be chosen, and who—more to the point—will take the office after it is offered to him. A special council of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia has been called to meet in this city on Wednesday next to elect a bishop cadjetor and it is hoped that there will be no trouble in securing the proper and an acceptable man.

It is to be regretted that a controversy has arisen over the ownership of the armory in this city and that the matter has gotten into the courts where it will probably remain for some time. Laying aside all legal points, quibbles, personal feeling, etc., between the contestants the fact remains that the armory was built mainly by the citizens of Alexandria for military occupancy and as there is but one military company in existence here that company should be allowed to have the use of the hall. Certainly no individual can expect to be personally benefited, peculiarly or otherwise, in the controversy and no good can result in the agitation now going on as to the ownership of the hall. The state authorities saw fit to disband the old company and a new one was immediately organized. The military authorities must have had good reason for taking the action it did and though some injustice may have been done a few members of the old company by its sudden disbandment yet no good can be accomplished by quarrelling and bickering over the ownership of the armory.

PROF. LOWELL, the well known astronomer, and his assistants announce that they have discovered water on the planet Mars and that the water vapor on the planet is present and measurable. There has been much controversy with reference to the atmosphere of Mars and its qualities. Those scientists who disbelieve in any life on the planet have known that their point could be proved if the absence of an atmosphere could be shown, while, on the other hand, Professor Lowell and his staff have been at work seeking what evidence there might be in favor of an atmosphere. Many congressmen wish Mr. Roosevelt would abandon his proposed African trip and go to Mars to settle the controversy even if he has to do one of Speaker Cannon's asbestos mauling stunts.

REV. DR. CHARLES F. AKED, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York, told a large audience at the Tabernacle Congress yesterday afternoon that churches were much to blame for increasing tuberculosis in that city through failure to open windows. This will be another excuse for some people to remain away from church.

In yesterday's issue of the Commonwealth, Mr. Bryan demands an investigation of the Panama charges. His editorial says:

Many people may be entertained for a time by the exchange of epithets between Mr. Roosevelt and the editor of the New York Sun, but to the great American republic there is a serious side to this affair.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Dec. 12.

There is much speculation in congressional circles as to the ultimate result of the pending controversy between the Congress and President Roosevelt over the use of secret service agents. There is no doubt of the depth of feeling that has been aroused over the president's ironical suggestion that congressmen do not want themselves and their actions watched, but there is still greater irritation over the knowledge that secret service agents have been on the trail of congressmen, and that the president evidently intends to continue that practice. Members of both House and Senate are wondering what the president has up his sleeve. They do not believe that he would have said what he did in his message without appreciating that it would be resented, and they hear that he is prepared to come back with disclosures of unpleasant nature to some gentlemen, in case Congress becomes rude to him in its treatment of the subject. Just what these disclosures will be, is what is causing most of the speculation and, perhaps, worry on the part of some. The system of government espionage over the public and private lives of congressmen began, or at least became most evident, during the consideration of the legislation against the beef trust following the publication of the "jungle" exposure of stock yard methods. There was one or more detectives put on the trail of everybody connected with that legislation. This practice has been employed since, it is said, in a number of cases. Although, as a rule, the members of both branches of Congress represent a high standard of citizenship, not all of them, it is admitted, are "little angels," and it is considered possible that the president may have his possession some reports from secret service agents that would shock "the folks back home."

President-elect Taft is busy just now, in the sections of his cabinet. Last night he had a long conference with Mr. Roosevelt, who gave him some pointers on the way of dealing with the present cabinet and it is possible that the incoming president will retain several of them for a period after he is inaugurated. This is believed to be true, in the cases of Secretaries Wilson, Garfield, Newberry and Wright. Secretary Wilson has an ambition to hold the record of longest service in the cabinet, and the president-elect is disposed to favor him in this matter. On March 5, next year, if he should be in the cabinet then, he will have served 12 years, and under four different administrations. Secretary Wright was one of Mr. Taft's associates on the Philippine commission and with Secretary Newberry had been in office but a short time. It is said that Mr. Taft is quite willing to have them retain their posts for a little longer. His present intention, as stated in these dispatches recently, is to appoint Charles E. Magoon secretary of war, after sending him on a tour of inspection of the Philippines. Mr. Garfield is a personal friend of the president-elect, and a fellow Ohioan, and unless he can find a man who has the peculiar experience and qualifications needed at the head of the Interior Department, the present secretary is quite likely to hold his portfolio for a year or more. Later it is expected he will be replaced by a western man. Today Mr. Taft talked with Secretary Root and Representative Burton, of Ohio. The latter is said to be slated for either the state or treasury in the next cabinet, provided he is not elected senator from Ohio, and he is being consulted at every opportunity by Mr. Taft. Mr. Root's judgment is regarded of the very greatest value by Mr. Taft, and in the making of future cabinet ministers, his word will go as far as that of any man. President Roosevelt not excepted. Mr. Taft is feeling particularly optimistic today over the outlook for peace within the party during his administration. His amicable arrangement with the standpatters of the House on the tariff revision matter is, he believes, a very good indication of the harmony to prevail. That he was able to secure a promise of free trade for the products of the Philippines at his conference with Speaker Cannon and the ways and means committee members, is regarded as a signal triumph by Mr. Taft's friends. For years he has been urging this concession upon Congress, but hitherto the stand-pat element has always defeated him. Mr. and Mrs. Taft were entertained at luncheon today by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt has drawn up plans for giving President-elect Taft the biggest military display ever attendant upon a presidential inauguration. These plans, which are now being developed by the army and navy, call for the presence in Washington for purposes of parade and review, of several thousand soldiers, fresh from the evacuation of Cuba, and almost an equal number of sailors, fresh from their triumphal tour around the world. The army will be headed by Major General Barry, commanding the Cuban army of pacification and his entire staff, the navy section of the parade will be headed by Rear Admiral Sperry, and all the admirals and captains of his fleet.

President Roosevelt is not yet ready to announce that he had in mind before the prosecuting witness in a criminal libel action, when he declared to a delegation the other evening that he would do all he could to have Panama Canal "fallacies" reached by that method. If an investigation discloses that the attacks upon the canal acquisition have included the president as one guilty of reprehensible practices, it is said by those who have talked with him today as likely to be highly provocative of something doing. The White House announced this afternoon, in response to inquiries, that there would be nothing to say upon the course to be taken by the president for a day or two, but that at that time a statement might be made.

Col. Hepburn, who presided at the meeting of republican insurgents of the House last night announced today the personnel of the committee that will outline a course of action. The members are Hepburn, Hayes, California, Townsend, Michigan, Cooper, Wisconsin and Foster, Vermont. They will hold a meeting on Monday. Congressman Hayes said he had not made up his mind as to the changes that ought to be made in the rules. Other members of the committee are in similar position. They are much set in the belief that the House should have more of a voice in its proceedings and will devote as much time as is necessary to work out a better arrangement. An effort will be made by the committee to frame changes in the rules that will satisfy the speaker and other leaders of the regulars, and that may be adopted the session. To that end, conferences will be held with the speaker and his aides, in an effort to reach an agreement. A leader of the reformers said today: "The troubles in the House are not due to the rules alone, but to the conduct of the members. If they had the courage to stand up and talk, most of the evils would be rectified. As it is, they keep still, and when called to account by their constituents for failure to get legislation they hide behind the rules and the speaker."

George Von Wedel, the new counselor of Germany, was presented to Secretary Root today by Baron von Riechthof, the second secretary. He succeeds Count Von Hatzfeldt, and also becomes charge of the embassy, until the arrival of the new ambassador, Count Von Brandt, who is expected to reach Washington to take up the duties of his post about the 20th.

Representatives Kiefer, Cole, and Anthony, of Ohio, asked the president to pardon Edward F. Fickinger, of Galion, a former leading banker, who is serving a term for embezzlement. The president told the Ohio congressmen, in explaining his attitude toward convicts, that he would rather pardon a horse thief than a bank wrecker, almost any time.

News of the Day.

The Dutch warships patrolling the coast of Venezuela have been cleared for action.

Cardinal Gibbons had a conference with President-elect Taft yesterday in regard to Indian schools and church questions.

The British Government has refused to recognize the transfer of the Congo to Belgium unless definite guarantee of sweeping reforms are given.

In an opinion judge Kinkel in Harrisburg, Pa., yesterday refused a new trial to ex-Auditor General W. P. Snyder, ex-assessor W. L. Mathews, ex-superintendent J. M. Shumaker and Outrigger John B. Sanderson who were convicted of conspiracy last March.

The old Pennsylvania railroad station in Washington was torn down by Col. Brownell, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, on the order of President Roosevelt, and without authority of law, according to testimony before the House appropriations committee during the preparation of the legislative appropriation bill. The hearings are now public.

P. A. Baker, former superintendent, announces the appointment of Mr. William H. Anderson, now superintendent of the Anti-Slavery League of Maryland, as "acting legislative superintendent" of the Anti-Slavery League of America, to take the position held temporarily for the past year by Mr. S. E. Nicholson, of Pennsylvania, and formerly filled by Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie.

Forty-eight hours after moving into her new home in the asylum grounds, Washington, so that she might be near her husband, John R. Early, the North Carolina leper, Mrs. Lotie Early last Friday night gave birth to a son. The child, the doctors say, is a healthy infant showing none of the signs of the disease which she made his father an outcast. Mr. Early expressed much pleasure at the news and asked that the child be named for him.

Virginia News.

William B. Allenworth, a Confederate veteran, of King George county, died at his home Wednesday, aged 75 years.

It is reported in Richmond that Captain Asa Rogers, of Petersburg, formerly collector of internal revenue for the Eastern district of Virginia, has been named by U. S. Marshal Morgan Trent as his first deputy to succeed Maj. J. E. Knight, who had to resign earlier in the week.

The barn and contents belonging to J. Frank Dogan, near Manassas, were destroyed by fire on Thursday. Twenty tons of hay, a large quantity of fodder, corn, farming implements, harness, and vehicles were lost. The loss is but partially covered by insurance. This is the second mysterious fire in that community within a few days.

SITE FOR SUBSTATION.

Justice Burard in Washington yesterday dismissed the petition for an injunction against the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company to restrain that corporation from erecting a substation near Fourteenth and Water streets southwest.

The railroad company held that the plans for the substation were approved by the District Commissioners, who later sought to have the railway construct the substation at a different point. This the railroad company refused to do, continuing the work of construction at the Water street site.

"A site having been selected and having been approved by the commissioners no further power remains in them to question the site," said the judge, in his opinion. "They still have a supervision over the character of the building to be erected, and it may be necessary for the defendant to submit its plans to the inspector of buildings for his approval before erecting the substation." The site selected is a most inconvenient one for those reaching Washington from the South and those who leave the train south of Pennsylvania avenue.

Sinking of a Steamer.

Odesa, Dec. 12.—A Turkish steamer from Constantinople to Sebastopol went down today during a storm on the Black sea and all of her crew and fifty passengers were lost.

Mysterious Murders.

New York, Dec. 12.—The police today are working on two of the most baffling murders in recent years. Both victims are young women, unidentified and good looking. One of the women was found with her throat cut from ear to ear in her room on east Eleventh street. The second victim was discovered in a horribly mutilated condition on the tracks of the Third Avenue surface railway in Harlem. The police are searching for a man known to have lived in the Eleventh street house with the girl found murdered there. The police believed the woman found on the car tracks was murdered and then brought to the car line to give her death the appearance of an accident.

HAIR WON'T FALL OUT.

If You Kill the Dandruff Germ With the New Treatment.

John N. Fuller, a well-known citizen of Colfax, Washington, says: "I had dandruff so badly that it caked on my scalp. Herpicide completely cured me." George H. McWhirk, of Walla Walla, Wash., says: "Herpicide completely cured me of a bad case of dandruff of 30 years' standing." They took the only really sensible treatment, a remedy that destroys the dandruff germ—Newbrook's Herpicide. Stop dandruff, hair won't fall out, but will grow naturally, luxuriantly. Always itching instantly and makes hair glossy and soft as silk. One bottle will convince any doubter of its merit. Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Investigating Children's Deaths.

Winchester, Pa., Dec. 12.—The authorities today are conducting a vigorous investigation into the deaths of John Van Horn, 8 years old, and his sister Mabel, aged hydrophobia as a result of eating Frankfurter sausages. Three other members of the Van Horn family are seriously ill. The grocer who sold the sausages disclaims all knowledge of the fact that the meat was tainted.

War Still Imminent.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 12.—Germany's urgent requests upon the Austrian foreign office to re-open negotiations with Turkey for a settlement of the indemnity dispute, was due to her discovery that Turkey has practically completed preparations for a declaration of war against Austria, according to information that reached the Russian foreign office today.

This information says that Turkey has abandoned all hope for peace, and that the outbreak of hostilities is a question only of days.

The foreign office believes that Chancellor Von Buelow's request upon Austrian Foreign Minister Von Aehrenthal will have an opposite effect from that desired. It has placed Austria on the defensive and has stiffened Turkey's indemnity demands until it is considered improbable that Austria will yield. Turkey also refuses to pledge the ending of the boycott against Austria, which Austria demands as a condition precedent to the conclusion of an indemnity agreement.

Baron Von Aehrenthal was violently opposed to following out Von Buelow's suggestion, but pressure was brought to bear upon him by Emperor Franz Joseph. He prophesied the attitude that Turkey has assumed, and declared his preference for precipitating the conflict, which he considers inevitable.

Cortelyou and Union Trust Company.

New York, Dec. 12.—Financial circles are anxiously awaiting confirmation from Washington of the report that Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou has accepted the presidency of the Union Trust Company to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward King. John D. Rockefeller acted through the Union Trust Company during the panic in the matter of the relief he advanced independently. It is believed he drew on the institution for as much as $10,000,000, although the union trust has not been regarded as a Standard Oil concern. It was organized in 1864, has a capital of $1,000,000, with a surplus and undivided profits of $3,180,000. The deposits are more than $53,000,000, loans $87,000,000 and the company pays an annual dividend of fifty per cent.

J. T. Woodward, president of the Hanover National bank and chairman of the committee of trustees of the Union Trust Company, which is to select the new president said:

"There is not a word of truth in the report that Mr. Cortelyou has been invited to become president of the Union Trust Company. The committee is not even ready to agree on the matter."

Castro Agrees to Proposal.

Paris, Dec. 12.—President Castro, it was stated today, has agreed to the proposal of the French Cable Company for settling the company's claim against Venezuela for the latter's seizure of its property. No agreement, however, has been reached as to the amount of damage. The cable company's first demand was for $1,000,000 and a further indemnity. Whether it has modified its demand cannot be learned, as neither the foreign office nor any member of Castro's entourage will give out anything.

The Spanish embassy today vigorously denied a report that King Alfonso has asked the French government not to present an ultimatum to Castro. It is asserted that Alfonso has made no representations to the French government concerning Castro.

Steamer Ashore.

Eastport, L. I., Dec. 12.—High and dry on a sandbar a half mile west of the Bellport station lies the steamer Harburg today. It is not believed she is in a dangerous condition. The steamer, loaded with pipe, grounded during a heavy fog. Wrecking tugs have been called for from New York. The crew is sticking to the ship, although life savers are in the vicinity ready to take them off should the occasion warrant.

Another German Dreadnaught.

Berlin, Dec. 12.—The fourth of Germany's dreadnaught type of battleships was launched today at Kiel and christened the Posen. The Posen's tonnage will be 17,000 and her speed 19 knots. It is expected to have her ready for service early in 1910. Germany has the keels laid for three other vessels of similar type.

Persian Rebels Killed.

Odesa, Dec. 12.—Hundreds of Persian rebels were killed and wounded in a battle with a force of loyalists under command of Ali-Ed-Dowleh, according to a message received here today from Tabriz. The rebels, or constitutionalists, were commanded by General Bahir Khan, and after a stubborn attack on the loyalist army, were forced to flee.

For That Dull Feeling After Eating.

I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I ever used. My trouble was a heavy dull feeling after eating—David Freeman, Kemp, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

The Haines Trial.

New York, Dec. 12.—All arrangements are complete for the trial of Thornton Jenkins Haines for the murder of William E. Annis, which will begin in the Supreme Court in Flushing next Monday afternoon. Justice Crane, who will preside, served notice to lawyers in the case today that he will insist that everything be done to expedite the trial. He will refuse to consider any motions that seem to be a ruse with the sole object of retarding the trial and it is known to be his ambition to rush the case through in record time. Two hundred and ninety-five taxmen have been summoned to appear Monday and it is hoped that from this list twelve non-biased men can be secured. It is declared by District Attorney Davis that he will not call Mrs. Peter Haines as a witness against her brother-in-law. She is outside of the jurisdiction of the New York courts and cannot be summoned. The principal witness will be Mrs. Annis, wife of the murdered man, who was an eye witness to the killing.

Shake off the grip of your old enemy, New Catarrh, by using Ely's Cream Balm. Then will all the swelling and soreness be driven out of the tender, inflamed membrane. The fits of sneezing will cease and the discharge, as offensive to others as to yourself, will be stopped when the causes that produce it are removed. Cleanliness, comfort and renewed health by the use of Cream Balm. Sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 50 Warren street, New York.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Dec. 12.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session today having adjourned on Thursday till Monday.

HOUSE.

The House today passed a bill providing for the establishment of six judicial divisions in the district of Indiana. An amendment to postal laws passed by the House today, makes the penalty for embezzlement or theft of mail by a postal employee, $500 with imprisonment for five years, or both.

Mr. Hall (rep. Iowa) introduced in the House today a bill to give the president authority to raise a great volunteer army in time of war. It makes every citizen between the age of 18 and 35 subject to military duty.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFINGS.

The Young Turks have made a clean sweep in the election in Constantinople, of deputies for the new parliament, the result of the vote being made known today. In the delegation of ten members are five Turks, two Armenians, two Greeks and one Jew.

While members of the Y. M. C. A., of Knoxville, Tenn., were last night enjoying their annual banquet, thieves made a complete loot of the private rooms of members, taking $500,000 worth of watches, clothing diamonds and other valuables.

A dispatch from San Francisco says Abe Raef will not be sentenced until next Saturday. Judge Lawler, with the consent of the prosecution, today postponed this action for a week, at the request of the attorney for the defense, who wished to prepare a number of motions.

Two heavily-laden trolley cars collided at the approach to Newton Creek bridge, near Gloucester, Pa., today, and a panic resulted among some forty girls on one of the cars. A dozen of them fainted and others tried to jump into the creek in their fright, but they were restrained by men on the car. No one was hurt.

A dispatch from Colombo, Island of Ceylon, says the battleship Georgia reached Colombo this morning, nearly 24 hours ahead of the rest of the American fleet. Since the night of December 9, the Georgia had sailed at a speed of 12-knots, while the other vessels were steaming at 10-knots and will reach port tomorrow morning.

Boston is to have a subsidized steamship line to Rio Janeiro in a few weeks, according to a report of Irving B. Fudley, United States Ambassador to Brazil, who sailed from Boston today on the Celtic for Mediterranean ports. Mr. Dudley said he had just been a survey by Senator Perkins, of California, chairman of the committee of subsidies, that the bill would be passed at this session, without a doubt, by both houses.

P. McKee, secretary of the Pittsburgh Vein Coal Operators' Association of Ohio, and national secretary of the United Mine Workers organization, and one of the best known men in the industry in the middle west, died at Wheeling, W. Va., early today after a short illness. Death was due to pneumonia.

Samuel E. Campbell, who recently ran down Rev. Dr. G. Brinley Morgan in an automobile at New Haven, Conn., inflicting injuries from which he died within a few hours, today was held for trial in the Supreme Court on a charge of manslaughter.

Henry Redding, an aged negro, who was arrested in Rochelle, Ga., for a calling a clock, set fire to the cell in which he was confined at the jail today and perished in the flames.

RECTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. Wythe Leigh Kinsolving, rector of Epiphany Episcopal Church, Baiton Heights, a suburb of Richmond, resigned his charge yesterday following a fight with his father-in-law, Rev. Dr. R. H. Pitt, editor of the Religious Herald, a Baptist publication. The encounter occurred in the home of Dr. Pitt.

Wythe Leigh Kinsolving married Miss Annie Laurie Pitt more than two years ago. Shortly before the marriage Dr. Pitt, it is said, was informed by an Episcopal clergyman that his prospective son-in-law had suffered from temporary hallucinations. Dr. Pitt, it is alleged, wrote to the elder Mrs. Kinsolving, asking in regard to the report. Kinsolving became aware of this correspondence.

He refused to leave the house when ordered, and Dr. Pitt threatened to call an officer and have him arrested. He waited to the door by Dr. Pitt and the fight took place. Dr. Kinsolving carried away a scar over his eye. He has resigned his church, and will leave, with his wife for the far South.
